LONDON'S ONE MILLION ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS

After nearly half a century the mass migration to Britain continues unabated:

AN INVESTIGATION by a national newspaper has revealed that there are now in the region of ONE MILLION illegal immigrants in London alone. Once in this country the immigrants disappear into the system, working at first in the black economy and then using false documents to obtain council homes and benefits.

Since virtually no checks are made by the authorities, in view of the 'sensitive' nature of immigration issues, the chances of apprehension are almost nil. Among those who come to the attention of the Government only 5% are ever sent home - and those apprehended only represent a fraction of the illegals.

As the Government's own former Chief Immigration Officer, Peter Tompkins, revealed recently the official figures for immigration are a sham. He estimated immigration to be running at 120,000 a year - on the most moderate assumptions. Some immigration officers have given an estimate of up to 250,000 a year!

Port immigration officers have described themselves as 'fighting a losing battle. It's like poking your finger in a leaking dam wall'.

Mass immigration has now continued unabated since 1948, when the 'Empire Windrush' sailed up the Thames with the first major post-war influx of people from the Third World. After nearly half a century the flood continues.

100,000 ASIANS

Asians are now making Russia a staging post for entry to Britain - which is the preferred Western country on account of its welfare benefits and 'anti-racist' industry.

100,000 Asians, out of a total of at least 500,000 illegals in Russia who intend to migrate, are poised to enter Britain with the help of the now multi-million pound immigrant smuggling industry.

Illegals are now passing through ports by the lorry load. The head of Kent's new police task force to combat immigration, Detective Inspector Tony Masters, says that a national organisation is needed.

Since hardly anyone caught is ever returned to their country of origin this suggestion would seem pointless - but may well be adopted by the Government to trick public opinion into believing that effective action is being taken - as has happened so often before.

NETWORK

There is an extensive network of 'safe houses' in Frankfurt and Munich, where immigrants stay while awaiting entry into the UK.

'If we had the staff we could close down the entire London restaurant trade' - SENIOR IMMIGRATION OFFICER

Each immigrant pays £3,000 to be smuggled into Britain, with lorry drivers receiving £500 for every person successfully brought in. The chances of detection are minimal, and if caught all migrants need do to stay is to claim 'refugee status'.

NO CHECKS

Following left-wing demonstrations after the demise of Joyce Gardner, who died resisting a rare case of repatriation, London's Police

SHAPLA SCHOOL IN EAST LONDON - Only two of the 240 pupils are white

Commissioner Paul Condon announced that the police would no longer deal with illegal immigrants.

Since inner-city councils are all left-wing, and more likely to welcome immigrants than report them there are, in effect, no checks at all!

The restaurant trade is a common employment destination for illegals who have not yet obtained benefits. A senior immigration officer said recently that the entire London restaurant trade could be shut if he had the staff to take proper action.

50% ILLEGAL

The Chief Executive of Tower Hamlets said, some years ago, that 50% of the Asians in east London were illegal immigrants! All Commonwealth citizens can vote in British elections - even if in Britain illegally. Thus the result of local polls is often decided by people who should not be in Britain at all - even under the rules of the present Government!

HOUSING BOSS WHO EXPOSED IMMIGRANTS SUSPENDED FROM JOB

Hackney's Housing Director has been suspended after exposing a massive illegal immigrant racket within the Council.

Bernard Crofton gave a report detailing the racket to Hackney's Finance Director Michael Craig. The Chief Executive of the Council, Jerry White, immediately suspended Mr. Crofton, and ordered him not to talk to the Press about what was happening!

Mr. Crofton said in the report that many Council staff were illegal immigrants, who had entered Britain as 'holiday-makers'. Once here they were given jobs by Hackney, using bogus identities and references, and with the help of council staff - many of whom were fellow countrymen.

Council staff were using their positions to obtain public housing, and to fraudulently obtain money for housing benefit. Some presented themselves as homeless, under further false identities, to obtain benefits. Flats were used to order goods by fraud, which were then exported and the bill left unpaid.

Mr. Crofton earlier led a battle to evict criminals from housing estates in the area.

A former Housing Director has said that he was threatened by a group calling themselves the 'League Against Racist Managers', when he attempted to fight irregularities.

BN expects desperate attempts will be made to cover up the scale of the massive migrant rackets which are entrenched all over the country. Inner city councils are riddled with malpractices like this.

STOP THIEVES! THEY'VE STOLEN THE WAR

The propaganda use increasingly made by the media of WWII is - to put it politely - a tribute to their creative powers.

A war fought by Britons, who died believing themselves engaged in a struggle to preserve British independence, and to prevent the imposition of some foreign way of life, has been converted into a struggle against nationalist aspirations.

As Tommy Atkins lay in his dug out he was in no doubt what he was about - self determination for Britons and the defence of our position in the world. If that is not nationalism then what is?

The conjurors of the media have contrived to persuade all too many of our people - particularly the generation old enough to remember the war - that the conflict should be seen as ordinary people fighting against British nationalistic aspirations!

Thus the standard procedure is to flash up warning film clips of the war whenever the BNP, or anyone else, dares to promote the objectives most people saw themselves as pursuing between 1939-45.

What do they think people saw themselves as about during the war? Building a multi-racial Britain controlled by European bureaucrats?

The fact that the war led to a very different outcome for Britain from the one which our ordinary combatants intended is neatly overlooked. The sound of our dead whizzing in their graves in outrage grows louder by the day.

The war has been stolen and turned into a wheeze to encourage docility among the population, as the ideals of ordinary people during WWII are betrayed.

BBC reporters, who covered the recent beachhead anniversary celebrations for the D-Day landings, later demanded psychiatric counselling for the 'trauma' they had experienced. One veteran of the real thing said that they should try it with real bullets!

The coming year will see celebrations for the fiftieth anniversary of the end of the Second World War. Watch your screens for the tributes to our war dead, who made the greatest sacrifice possible - supposedly for Chapelton and Moss Side.

Stop thieves! They've stolen the war!

While Britain's imports of fish soar to record levels:

MAJOR TELLS FISHERMEN 'SCRAP YOUR BOATS'

THE GOVERNMENT is to pay Britain's fishermen £53 million pounds to scrap as many boats as possible - while imports of white fish have soared to 70% of our consumption.

In the last four years the amount of fish many of our trawlers are allowed to catch has been halved from 12 to 6 tons a month. Twenty years ago only 15% of our white fish was imported, now nearly three-quarters of what we eat adds to our massive trade imbalance.

Meanwhile foreign boats flood into the waters we have traditionally fished. Many of their own areas have been destroyed by overfishing with fine mesh nets. The Government's policy is to allow them to do exactly the same in our waters.

Thousands of jobs among the 30,000 strong industry will disappear in our ports, and many of Britain's 6,500 fishing boats will be scrapped. 80% of EC fish is in British waters - allowing us to be potentially self sufficient - yet under the Common Fisheries Policy we have to beg Europe for fish!

Parliament has now approved a deal to allow Spanish vessels into the Irish Sea. In theory the amount of fish they can catch will be regulated. In practice they will, as usual, ride a coach-and-horses through the rules, while Britain lies down to be trampled underfoot by our weak leadership and other nations.

EDWARD HEATH

In 1972 Prime Minister Edward Heath, without even consulting Parliament, signed away our entire fish stocks as a 'common European resource'.

The Spanish have told the EC that they will block the entry of Austria Finland and Sweden unless they get exactly what they want - hence the present fishing deal. Britain has to pay for the rampant ambitions of European politicians who care not a fig for the UK and its people.

SECRET TREATY

The Spanish have been registering their boats under the British flag for years to evade the original arrangement that they would not have access to the entire EC waters until 2002. The date has now been advanced to 1996, under a treaty originally hatched in secret in Brussels.

EC AND BRITAIN

Membership of the EC has been a disaster for Britain, as it was intended to be. The objective of the whole racket is to reduce Britain to a business park ripe for exploitation by foreign business interests.

The Common Agricultural Policy has increased the cost of food by £20 per week for every family. Butter costs 64p, a half pound, while the world market price is only 29p.

British trawlermen - sunk by the EC and the treachery of our own Governments both Tory and Labour

HOW FISH CATCHES FELL

1970	1,101,000 tons
1975	855,500 tons
1980	747,600 tons
1985	590,400 tons
1990	621,500 tons
1994	301,000 tons

TORIES LOSE BIGGEST FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTOR

THE FAILING Tory Party has lost its biggest financial contributor United Biscuits. The company said that 'in view of the increasingly international nature of its business it is now inappropriate to make contributions to any political party in the UK or in any other country'.

The Conservatives have already lost several major contributors in the last year. Even British Airways has stopped its contribution. What the withdrawal of company support spells out is what our political parties do not want to admit to Britain.

The power of multi-national enterprises is now so great that they no longer need to influence events indirectly through political parties. The pretence that the Tories control Britain is increasingly a sham for public consumption. United Biscuits recently closed its KP crisps plant in Grimsby, with a loss of 980 jobs.

The irony is that the Tories, who have worked to bring about such a situation, should now find their own days numbered as a result - having outlived their purpose! Labour serves exactly the same ends as the Tories, as voters will discover after the next election if Tony 'Bambi' Blair becomes Prime Minister.

The United Biscuits announcement offers a rare public glimpse of the realities behind the empty rhetoric of the three main parties about what they will do if elected. They can rely on a British electorate which simply does not yet understand that our economy is being dismantled, and moved to Third World countries.

The BNP is the only party which continues to tell the truth about what is really happening in the world economy, and the appalling outlook for this country.

A particular tragedy is the very large number of working class people in Britain who still imagine that Labour serves their interests. Their disillusion, when they discover that they have been persuaded to vote for a party which is as wedded to the destruction of Britain as the Tories, will not be a pleasant sight.

Few people will yet, however, grasp the true significance of the United Biscuits decision.

●The Government is to change the law to further restrict freedom of speech and freedom of the press - for those who believe there is any! The intention is to make it easier to apply foreign laws in Britain - something which should give no cause for surprise. It will be more difficult to avoid legal action in Britain under restrictive rules which apply elsewhere. If a newspaper exposes, for instance, the plans of some international enterprise to damage the interests of British people then normally it would be safe from legal action. Under the new rules the foreign enterprise may be able to find a country it operates in with laws barring such disclosures, and take legal action here under those laws.

Church prepares secret deal with homosexuals

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND is preparing a deal with homosexuals. Meetings have been held recently with militant pervert's groups to carve out an agenda.

It is expected that there will soon be an announcement of a change in policy on the practice of homosexuality by both priests and members of the Church of England. Queer priests will be allowed officially by the church - threatening a row with the few remaining people in the church who still have any moral values left.

Revolting Peter Tatchell, who runs the homosexual group Outrage, has agreed not to disrupt any more services for the moment. Outrage travels round schools distributing sick leaflets, in an attempt to pervert school-children. Mr. Tatchell was recently hospitalised by priests at London's biggest Catholic Church, when he led a demonstration there.

The fact that homosexuality is against all the teachings of the church is neither here nor there to the degenerates who now run the organisation.

Parents should be very cautious from now on in allowing their children to fall under the sway of representatives of this sick so-called 'church'.

Former Marxist Michael Nazir-Ali smirks for the cameras as he becomes Britain's first Asian Bishop in Rochester recently. Many BN readers may wonder whether it is even necessary to be a 'former' Marxist to become a priest! There is nothing to choose between them on policy.

BATH TERRORISED BY MARTIAL ARTS THUGS

AN OUTRAGED city demanded action against mob violence when a gang wielding martial arts weapons rampaged through Bath injuring seven people - two seriously. The gang, 15 strong and said to be composed of mixed white, black, and Asian youths, attacked people at random with rice flails, wooden bats, and chains.

Police believe that the same gang left a trail of damage in the city last July, when shop windows were smashed and two residents were attacked in their homes.

The latest rampage began in a club early on Saturday morning. Four men were injured. The gang then went to a nearby car park and attacked three more people, beating one unconscious, and knocking out the teeth of another. At 3am, a man was robbed nearby and a motorist had a rock thrown through the window of his car.

City Centre Manager Kim Paumier called for the offenders to be punished in way which would make it clear that Bath would not tolerate lawlessness. Bath depends on tourism for its livelihood, and the present crime wave could affect the image of the city.

● Three men have been arrested and charged with violent disorder and GBH following the attacks.

Angela Cusick, 26, had her front teeth knocked out by a gang at this branch of Sock Shop in Bath a few days before the latest rampage by the martial arts thugs. She attempted to call police after goods were stolen from the city centre shop, which she manages. The telephone was snatched from her hand and smashed into her face by the thieves, breaking several of her teeth.

Rolex watch robber raped victim

A BLACK RAPIST followed his victim home, after seeing her wearing a Rolex watch. He pushed his way into her Belgravia home, raped her in her bedroom, and fled stealing her watch, jewellery, and camera.

A couple, who were in the house, heard the noise and called the police. Leon Blackwood was arrested nearby after breaking his ankle in an attempt to escape.

The woman, who is 45, was walking her dogs in Belgravia, one of London's richest areas, when the rapist followed her. Police are to question him about a number of other Rolex robberies, following his conviction for rape. Blackwood has a string of robbery convictions.

London's smartest areas are now plagued with muggings by well organised gangs and individuals, mainly black. Watch robberies, carried out in broad daylight, have become very common.

Leon Blackwood, who raped a woman after stealing her watch, leaving her devastated and frightened to be alone. She no longer attends social functions, and can think of little else except the attack. She told the court that every time the door bell rings she trembles. The BNP will hang offenders of this type.

SENTENCED TO SIT DOWN!

A MAN who accumulated £818 in unpaid fines was sentenced by magistrates to sit down for the rest of the day - instead of paying off the amount owed!

Jozeph Rollings, aged 25, was brought before Bristol magistrates after failing to pay fines for a string of motoring offences, and handling stolen goods. The fines had remained unpaid for 14 months, and came to light when Rollings appeared before the court after committing the same offences again.

The magistrates could have jailed him for failing to pay - but opted for a sentence designed to bring terror into the hearts of all those contemplating breaches of the law!

The bench ordered him to sit at the back of the court for the rest of the day!

The day after the sentence Rollings walked into the local police station and laughed in officer's faces. Not only had the court transmuted the unpaid fines into a period of 'sitting', but he had been given a conditional discharge for driving without insurance, a licence, or an MOT certificate.

BN says that the political establishment, among whom must be numbered the magistracy, have lost all right to run this country. They no longer even try to pretend that they are running Britain properly. The actions of the bench display a total contempt for the public.

● Unison, the local government union, has proposed making Winston Silcott the honorary president of a branch in the North of England.

The branch in Bradford intends to make murderer Silcott a figurehead in their fight against 'state racism'.

Black thugs laughed as they cut woman teacher's throat

A WOMAN teacher came close to death after having her throat cut by two black men - who laughed as they attempted to kill her.

The attack took place at London's Archway, which has a high ethnic minority population. The teacher, who is 36, was walking towards her car at 4.30pm, when the two men sprayed her with CS gas, before cutting her throat with a knife.

Nothing was stolen from the woman in the attack, which appeared to be purely for the 'amusement' of the two assailants.

The woman's life was only saved by the swift actions of a passer-by who called an ambulance.

Needless to say the attack, which was clearly racially motivated, received none of the massive national media attention which is always the case when black people are hurt in similar circumstances. Often the so-called 'racist' attacks on blacks are not even anything to do with race - witness the case of Quaddus Ali reported elsewhere in this issue.

Asian gang warfare reaches Scotland

AN ASIAN terror gang is bringing fear to Glasgow's Pollokshields area. Police believe it to be the first organised Asian gang in Scotland.

Thirty Asians armed with knives, hammers, and clubs were involved in a bloody street battle recently which hospitalised three men. No one would help police who enquired into the incident, and the gang are running riot because witnesses are too frightened to come forward.

Police investigations have been abandoned in the face of lack of evidence. Local police Superintendent Eric Webb said "I am very concerned about increasing violence among ethnic minority groups. There is a wall of silence".

Shopkeepers in the area are said to be terrified. The gang is thought to have attacked a white youth in a restaurant shortly before the major street violence occurred.

TO THE POINT

The Cold War may be over but reactions to the Richard Gott affair are the latest reminder of how many supposedly enlightened people remain unwilling or unable to recognise what kind of century they have been living in.

By the early 1920s, the Soviet leadership recognised that there was no foreseeable prospect of exporting revolution to the West. Instead it decided to concentrate on softening and manipulating Western opinion. It embarked on a war of ideas, with covert or indirect propaganda as the most powerful weapon.

BIRMINGHAM TO HOST EUROPE'S BIGGEST HINDU TEMPLE

Residents of Tividale, near Birmingham, are up in arms at plans to build Europe's biggest Hindu temple on their open space. Costing £3.5m, the temple, if built, will destroy the only remaining green space between Birmingham and Dudley.

The temple will be constructed by labour imported from India. British residents will be banned from the area on holy days, and it will attract hundred of cars into the small town from miles around.

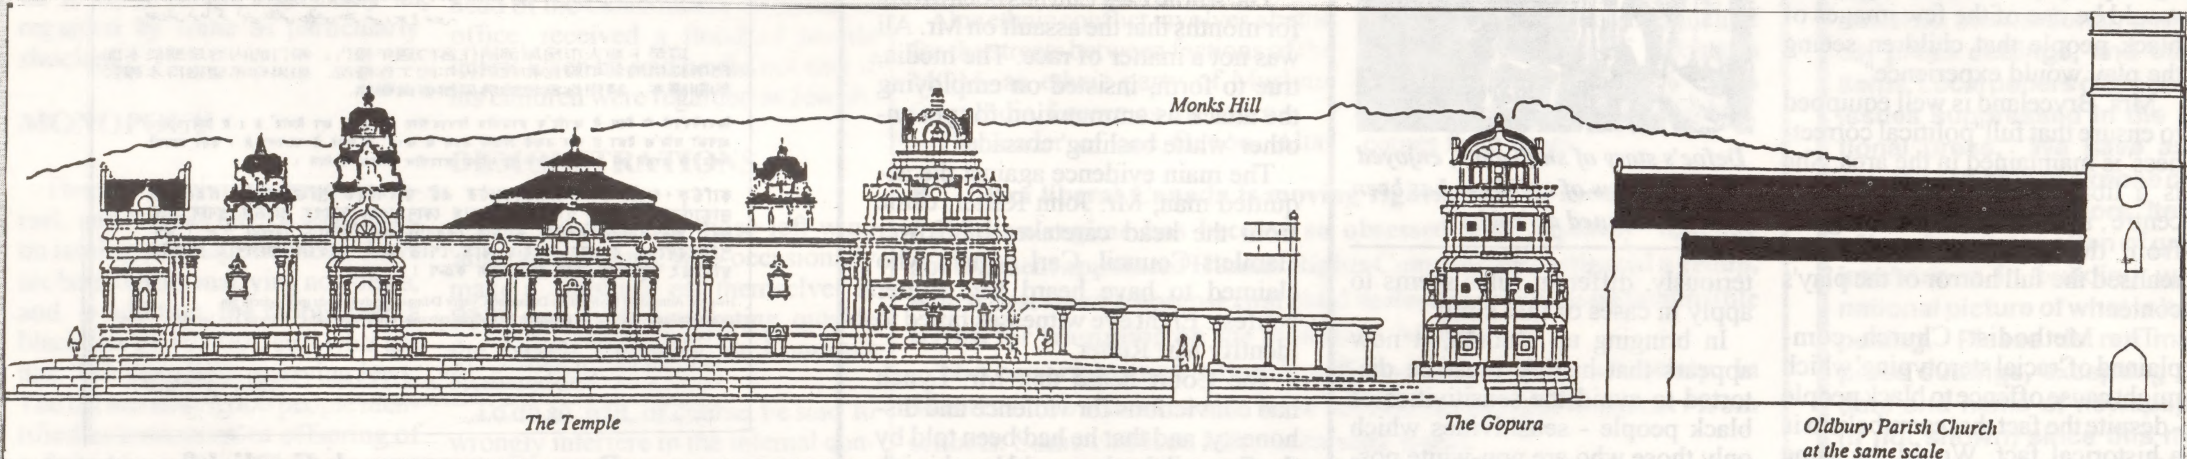

The temple is backed by the Black Country Development Association, who plan to ride roughshod over local people. The Association has employed every developer's trick to gain support from Tividale folk.

Residents, who have been fighting the scheme for over a year, are trying to have the site declared a village green to block the plans.

The Hindus have launched a massive leaflet campaign to soften up the public, claiming that the building will not be large or intrude upon residents - despite the loss of public open space and the thousands of people who will flood into the town from far and wide.

The BNP have supported local people since the plans were first announced, including a well publicised demonstration at the site. Visitors to the area can see that the open space is much used as a local resource, particularly by children.

An artist's impression of the proposed new Hindu temple in Birmingham's Tividale, which will cost £3.5m. and take up the last green space between Birmingham and Dudley.

NO HEROES PLEASE WE'RE BRITISH!

Government blocks return of Sir Francis Drake's body

THE MINISTRY OF DEFENCE is blocking attempts to return the body of Sir Francis Drake to Britain for burial in Westminster Abbey. The Government has asked the authorities in Panama to block the salvage of Drake's coffin from the sea just off the Panama coast.

Drake was buried at sea in 1596 after dying of yellow fever. The great British hero, who defeated the Spanish Armada, was dressed in his armour and enclosed in a lead coffin, which will be well preserved.

A team of historians spent 14 years locating the famous seafarer's resting place - now our pathetic politicians do not want him. It is thought that Drake's presence in Britain would break the Government's code of 'political correctness' designed to undermine white people. Additionally, the Spanish, to whom we now kow-tow by giving away our fishing grounds, might be offended by being reminded of their defeat in 1588.

Drake died at 54, after a series of exploits for Britain which lasted forty years. He was consigned to the deep amid 'a lament of trumpets and the thunder of guns'. Two ships were burnt as a funeral tribute.

Sir Francis led the attack on the Spanish Armada off Gravelines which shattered their fleet, and also pioneered the gunnery techniques used by Nelson at Trafalgar. He was the first Englishman to circumnavigate the globe. He was knighted in 1580, by Queen Elizabeth I, on his ship The Golden Hind, lying in the Thames at Deptford.

Drake founded the British maritime tradition, which enabled Britain to become one of the greatest nations in history - until betrayed by its own leaders into the craven nation which fawns on every demand by immigrants from Third World countries.

British history, and our national heroes, are being systematically disposed of to prepare the country for its final dissolution at the hands of internationalist interests. Our schoolchildren are taught to feel ashamed of the achievements of their ancestors, and the wishes of our people trampled on. No heroes please - we're 'British'!

Sir Francis Drake was buried at sea in 1596, three miles off Panama. Two ships were burnt as a funeral tribute. The British Government does not want Drake, who saved Britain from invasion by the Spanish Armada in 1588.

Another Armada hero rubbished by Britain

PLYMOUTH City Council have banned celebrations for the 400th anniversary of the death of Armada hero Sir John Hawkins.

Like Drake, Hawkins was knighted for his part in defeating the Armada, and taught him his trade as a naval commander.

Sir John also built up the fleet to resist a Spanish invasion. He liked to make fools of the Spaniards - something which would never do in 1995 in which we are forced to beg the Dons for our own fish!

Plymouth Council recently tried to ban the use of the word 'manager' as 'sexist'. The Council says that Sir John must be ignored because of his links with the slave trade - despite the fact that in his time everyone dealt in slaves and African chieftains willingly bought and sold them.

Ironically it is only white people who have given up slavery - all over Third World countries it survives - even if no longer often described in that way.

Labour MP for Plymouth David Jamieson said that the Council was right to dump a person whose past was 'improper'.

The Britannia Building Society is dropping the logo of British warrior queen Britannia - they say she is old-fashioned and aggressive.

BN BRIEFING

MORE BLOOD!!
MORE BLOOD!!

Paris based mouthfull 'Centre for Research and Action on Anti-Racism and Anti-Semitism' has denounced the BNP.

The BNP is bracketed with the Monday Club, and the Salisbury Group, as a 'threat' to this that and t'other. Daily Mail columnist and Salisbury Group representative Roger Scruton was outraged and described the denunciation as libellous.

The Centre's spokeslefty, Priscilla Malraux, stood by its claims about the BNP and everyone else. "They are all vampires" she said.

GREAT KIDDERS

A speaker at the conference of Welsh 'nationalist' group Plaid Cymru has called for the Commission for Racial Equality to set up an office in Wales.

Plaid Cymru MP Elfyn Llwyd complained about 'racism' but said the CRE should not allow itself to be used by those 'hostile to the Welsh language'.

How much of the Wales many Welshmen wish to see preserved does he think would be left after the evil CRE gets its clutches on?

Great kidders some MPs - who pretend to support Britain and its way of life - while making sure there are no complaints of 'racism' against them.

HOW TRUE

Nottingham Council leader John Taylor is setting up a twinning arrangement for the city with Chandigarh in the Punjab.

Chairman of Nottingham's Indian Community Centre Inder Batra said "Chandigarh is a city very much like Nottingham".

How increasingly true!

Belfast's Queen's University puts ban on National Anthem

THE SENATE of Queen's University in Belfast has banned the national anthem from graduation ceremonies - unleashing a storm of protest from patriots.

The British anthem is to be replaced by the European Union anthem, from Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. The University's Vice-chancellor Leslie Clark said that the difficulty with God Save The Queen was its 'lack of political neutrality'. Ian Paisley, leader of the Democratic Unionists, predicted that the Union Jack would soon be banned, and the name 'Queen's' dropped.

Unionist MP David Trimble said the move was "typical of the weak leadership of the Vice-chancellor".

BN says that Mr. Trimble's remarks are misleading. The dismantling of our heritage is a systematic act of treachery - carried out by people who know exactly what they are doing - with the likes of Professor Clarkson merely tame minions.

HOMOSEXUAL'S CLUB LET OFF LOCAL RATES

'Service to community' says Council

A HOMOSEXUAL night club in Harlow, Essex, has been let off paying rates by the Council - because it is said to provide a 'service to the community'.

The club, called Rubys - standing for 'Relax unwind and be yourself' - owes thousands of pounds in rates. It is run by a group calling itself the Lesbian and Gay Friends Group. Labour Harlow Council spokesperson Carole Hudson said "The group provides a valuable service and support to local people".

Local people, who have to pay their rates in full, are furious at the Council's decision to subsidise the activities of perverts. Landlord of the nearby Garden Tiger pub Mick Wisbey said "The council is run by a bunch of clowns. People like me who run their own pubs are subsidising the minority".

The club said that profits pay for a Gay

Switchboard service, which helps homosexuals to pursue their lifestyle.

In the United States the average age of death of male homosexuals is 42. Harlow Council is helping predatory adult homosexuals to lure teenagers into a perverted lifestyle which leads to premature death.

● Cambridge Council is barring whites from attending public meetings to present the findings of an enquiry into 'racial harassment'. An all white panel of Councillors found that 'racism' was far far worse than they imagined! One may be sure that big Council grants are on the way to the ethnic minorities! The Council has distributed leaflets advertising meetings solely to blacks - despite the fact that the enquiry was paid for mainly by whites who make up most of the local ratepayers.

INLAND REVENUE TO BLOCK WHITES BEATING BLACKS IN STAFF TESTS

BN EXCLUSIVE REPORT

THE INLAND REVENUE is to stop white staff beating blacks in the periodic assessments of performance. The Revenue have circularised staff throughout the country warning them that methods will be found to block any future outbreaks of excellence by whites.

The dreadful news that not all races scored the same - a sure sign of 'discrimination' according to the 'politically correct' - emerged from analysis of national test results. Non-whites received less 'exceed' and 'extra loaded' markings - Inland Revenue code for excellence. Even worse, whites have been gradually improving their performance!

Management consultants have been called in to explore 'barriers' to black performance, and to devise methods to keep the guilty whites down.

TO ALL OFFICERS IN CHARGE OUTSIDE THE VOA

Dear Colleague

PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

The national results of performance assessment for 1993/4 were published in the July edition of Revenue, with the Executive Office split included in the September edition. Since then, we have done some further analysis of the results for equal opportunities purposes. The attached tables compare the results of women with men and of white staff with those from ethnic minorities.

2. The analysis shows that, overall, proportionately less women received exceed and extra loaded markings than men. And the increase in not met markings this year was significantly greater for women than for men. Not all the figures for ethnic minority staff are statistically significant due to the small numbers involved. But on the face of it the evidence shows that, overall, white staff have done better than black and of white staff with those from ethnic minorities.

3. We are tackling this in two ways. First, as part of a longer term project to improve the representation of women and people from ethnic minorities at senior levels, we are looking at barriers and ways of overcoming them. And second, in the medium term, we are looking at the reasons underlying the results. We have therefore asked TMS Management Consultants, who as a result of the Chairman's second quality review for 1992/3 are already exploring the reasons underlying the results for ethnic minority staff for that year, to include the 1993/4 figures in their review. We will also be doing some further analysis, with expert help, on the results for women. I will let you know the outcome of this work as soon as I can.

4. Will you please show this newsletter to everybody in your office.

Yours sincerely

Sir: A shocking article was published in 'Combat & Survival' magazine recently. British troops have been sent out to Rwanda under the rule of United Nations bureaucrats. They carry their weapons with them, but are not allowed any live ammunition. Our lads are unarmed and unable to defend themselves against any attack launched against them by blacks armed to the teeth. The awful danger is seen in the fact that the black gunmen have already slaughtered 1.5 million of their fellow blacks. Our troops are billeted in a stadium in which everywhere, including offices showers etc., was smothered in piles of human excrement when they arrived. 40% of the locals also have AIDS. Who is allowing our soldiers to be put at such terrible risk? Scheming conniving UNO types who want a One World Government at the cost of our soldiers' lives.

LANCASHIRE CONFERENCE SETS PARTY AGENDA FOR 1995

THE BNP held a very important and successful conference of senior personnel early in February. Regional organisers, national officers, and deputies met in Lancashire for a two day meeting concerning party strategy.

The main objective was to discuss, among other issues, the party's progress, and to set the agenda for 1995.

The national political situation has changed radically during the last few months, and the BNP must respond to the new situation in a manner which will maximise the very great new opportunities.

OTHER PARTIES

Since the last similar conference Labour has enjoyed the benefit of a new leader - who has been temporarily successful in concealing from the public the real face of Labour. The Tories, on the other hand, find themselves in massive disarray, with an unprecedented poll shortfall compared with Labour.

Labour's honeymoon, under the leadership of Mr. Blair, is already showing signs of coming to an end - benefitting the BNP in Labour areas.

ELECTIONS

The conference discussed extensively the optimum approach to forthcoming elections by the BNP, and the continuing need to frame party activities to meet a very rapidly changing situation. It is clear that the public mood is shifting rapidly, and this may be seen in the character of media coverage on national issues.

The conference was addressed by Party Chairman John Tyndall, who emphasised the accelerating public disillusion with the main parties.

National Activities Organiser Richard Edmonds told the conference that electoral activities, particularly local elections, were the way forward for the party.

BENEFITS

All those who attended emphasised how useful the meeting had been in formulating a cohesive strategy for the party. One delegate pointed to the need for the frequency of meetings of this kind to reflect the very fluid political background, in which the unexpected can intervene at any time.

The conference agreed a number of changes to the party's approach to its activities. The BNP will reap the benefits during the coming months!

ELECTION NEWS

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGNING IN EAST LONDON WARDS

The BNP intensively campaigned in two East London by-elections during January - Peter Hart was the very strong candidate in Newham's South Ward and the very experienced David King is standing in Weavers Ward in Tower Hamlets.

The Newham result, due on January 26, arrived too late for inclusion in this issue of BN, but a good result was expected in a mainly white area.

All activists will be expected to support David King's campaign during February - polling day February 23.

The main issue in the Newham campaign was the Labour Council's plan to make the entire southern part of the borough, including South Ward, a minority white area. They call this 'building a balanced community'!

In Tower Hamlets Labour have infuriated residents with their plans for a massive homosexual festival next summer, on which we report elsewhere in this issue. The Labour Council also plan to get rid of white staff and replace them with immigrants - but are lying low on this issue until the election is over!

Canvassing, as always, is the key to success in Weavers Ward, and the party will be pulling out all the stops to get a good result.

Some very useful publicity was given to the BNP in a recent series of articles on East London in the London Evening Standard. The newspaper bemoaned the widespread agreement with the BNP's policies among white people in the area. The fact that the other parties have massively failed people in the area was also frankly admitted.

Labour's embarrassment has led to a statement by their leader, Tony 'Bambi' Blair, about the need for an elected authority for London. This would provide more well paid jobs for Labour's gravytrain, while white people are again pushed aside in favour of immigrants.

The BNP is steadily developing its electoral strategy, particularly in East London, and building the teams necessary to its efficient execution.

Everyone, young or old, can play a part in helping the party to increase its public profile - particularly in devastated East London.

BNP CANVASSING GUIDE OUT SOON

THE BNP'S election success, unprecedented in British nationalism, has led to the need to develop new skills among all members and supporters.

One of the most urgent tasks is to build up the numbers of trained and experienced election canvassers. The party is therefore preparing a new Canvassing Guide for publication shortly. This will supplement the wide ranging Activists' Handbook.

Since the BNP, unlike other parties, cannot rely on the media to put across its message, personal contact with the public is an essential technique in winning support. Election after election has proved the effectiveness of canvassing. All the media conditioning of the public mind can often be corrected in a minute or two on a doorstep.

The new guide will be comprehensive in scope, covering security, policy presentation, and the many other issues involved in putting across the BNP's message to the public with maximum effectiveness.

BN will make an announcement immediately the Guide is available.

SUBS DUE!

All BNP members are reminded that subscriptions for 1995 were due on January 1 1995.

Those who joined after October 1 1994 are exempted from membership renewal until 1996.

Prompt payment would be appreciated by the party, which has constant demands on its purse in the struggle for a future for Britain.

Legal Fund: target now £3,908.50

Contributions to the British National Party Legal Fund received last month amounted to a total of £357.50. This brings the total raised so far to £12,091.50 - leaving £3,908.50 still to be raised.

The money must be raised to contest an action against Bexley Borough Council over the use of the party's shop premises in Welling. The Council is attempting to prevent the current use of the shop on the grounds that it contravenes local authority planning regulations.

Contributions should be marked 'BNP Legal Fund' and sent to PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

A TIME OF TRANSITION..

A YEAR AGO the BNP entered a new era in its history and progression. The new era is now unfolding, presenting unrivalled opportunities - and unrivalled demands on us both as a party and as individuals.

Just over a year ago the BNP won its first election, with Derek Beackon's magnificent victory in Millwall. Although Councillor Beackon lost his seat last May, the Council elections at that time gave the party by far the greatest and most widespread election successes ever achieved by any nationalist party.

In Newham we were within 60 votes of winning a seat, with votes in the 20-30% bracket all over the East End of London. Too many people have allowed themselves to focus on the loss of a Council seat, and not on the tremendously encouraging overall results of electoral activity.

HUGE INCREASE

Even our enemies in the media were forced to admit to the 'huge increase' in the BNP vote. In the Dagenham parliamentary by-election we retained our deposit for the first time. The Mail on Sunday described it as a 'disturbing success'.

Inevitably some of the old methods and approaches of the BNP have become redundant, and new priorities adopted. Much new blood has come into the party during the last year.

1993 and 1994 saw concerted campaigns to divide the BNP and foster defection - let alone the criminal activities of communist groups who attacked and injured our members.

The attempts to destroy the BNP failed completely, and our movement is now even stronger and more determined for the experience.

Various pressures were applied by the liberal establishment. A series of 'smear' television programmes were shown, often so 'over the top' that one wondered at the naivety of the TV companies.

POLITICAL CHANGE

The big national political change of 1994 was the death of John Smith, and the election of a superficially personable new Labour leader, Tony 'Bambi' Blair.

Blair is currently enjoying a honeymoon period founded on empty rhetoric of unprecedented rapidity. Nevertheless Labour is enjoying great popularity. The swing to Labour is likely to be the dominating feature of British politics for the next two or three years - until we have a Labour Government in office for long enough to show people that nothing has changed.

Against this background the BNP can continue to build on its big votes. The important thing is to work to increase our percentages, and to win the votes of disillusioned Tories - of which there are now millions. Some new approaches will be needed to achieve this objective.

TRAINING

We need a continuation of the increased emphasis on preparation for elections, which has marked party development during the 1990s. At the same time the party must not allow the importance of elections to deflect it from other vital areas of activity. The education and training of members in political methods and leadership is of particular importance.

OLD ORDER

As the old order of British politics collapses, 1995 offers immense opportunities to our movement. The political establishment have no ideas whatsoever to solve the problems Britain faces - indeed their whole strategy is to pretend that the real problems do not exist! Even some of their own supporters complain about the constant evasions and lies put forward by their leaders.

Let us grasp the new opportunities eagerly, and continue the great progress of the year just gone!

Party Chairman
John Tyndall looks back on 1994 and ahead to the coming year for the BNP - a new year of immense political opportunities for the party to exploit

Communists fail in attempts to deny BNP media coverage

YET ANOTHER Trotskyite front group name has appeared, as the human dross of the far-left attempt to appear large in numbers by giving themselves umpteen different titles.

The latest title is the Monty Pythonesque 'Media Workers Against The Nazis' - whose objective is to threaten and bully journalists into denying the BNP media coverage.

A small handful of these people, mainly squatter types and homosexuals, have been seen handing out leaflets outside television studios. The latest sighting was just before the showing of the Pebble Mill programme about the BNP - reviewed in this issue of BNP!

These people do not agree with the BNP manifesto policy on freedom of speech - which has overwhelming public support. They want to turn Britain into the sort of place which Russia became under Communism. They have no support from responsible people - only from the diminishing loony left.

The BNP no longer has any difficulty in obtaining massive media coverage.

BBC Pebble Mill gives BNP excellent TV coverage despite usual smear repertoire

BBC TELEVISION gave the BNP some excellent coverage in the Midlands on January 12. The Pebble Mill programme Midlands Report, on the rise of the right in Britain, gave the party the longest time to put forward its arguments for many years.

Although the programme regaled viewers with the full repertoire of standard anti-BNP smears, the overall impression was that no one could reasonably disagree with what the party actually says.

The BNP's campaign against the proposed mosque in Tividale was shown (article P. 4), together with a party meeting in Dudley, which was addressed by Party Chairman John Tyndall.

Mr. Tyndall was also interviewed. He said that if the plans for a so-called multi-racial multi-cultural society succeeded it would mean the end of our civilisation.

The programme also made it clear that the BNP is the only established and substantial patriotic party in Britain. Rival groups have no substance, and vie desperately to appear as more than largely paper affairs.

Television companies now destroy their own case when they attack the BNP. The intention to smear the party is so obvious, to increasing numbers of viewers, that it has become counter productive to the liberal establishment's objective of destroying the white race.

- The crushing of the IRA, and the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
